Programs

Reward Sign Program - New members receive a “Reward” sign along with the protection of a $500 reward offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons for arson, vandalism, theft, or malicious mischief on the member’s property (conditions apply). A service of Nationwide® and the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

Member Information Program - Farm Bureau members receive the West Virginia Farm Bureau News magazine each month. Our website, www.wvfarm.org, has up-to-date information, resources and helpful links for members. And many county Farm Bureaus produce their own newsletters.

West Virginia Farm Bureau Foundation - The Foundation provides for farming’s future by supporting such programs as farm safety training, environmental stewardship, the annual Summer Agricultural Institute for Educators, and the Mobile Agriculture Education Science Lab, which travels to elementary schools statewide.

Young Farmers’ and Women’s Programs - State and county committees sponsor special activities for young farmers (ages 18-35) and women. All family members are encouraged to participate in Farm Bureau activities.

Legal Defense Fund - Voluntary contributions support legal action concerning agricultural issues and other matters of statewide nature and importance to Farm Bureau members. Fund distribution is governed by the WVF Board of Directors.

Political Education - WV Farm PAC and the Political Educational Program keep members active in the political process. Voluntary contributions support candidates who support agriculture. (Some county Farm Bureaus do not participate in the WV Farm PAC.) Farm Bureau also conducts Campaign Seminars to help candidates who support FB to win elections.

Anyone Can Join!
For nearly 100 years, members of West Virginia Farm Bureau have been successfully “growing” together. This year we invite you to join your county Farm Bureau. With your help, we can cultivate a better future for farmers, landowners and consumers.

Why Join?
No matter who you are, what you do or where you live, agriculture touches your life every day. Whether you farm or not, the survival and success of the agricultural industry is important to the quality of life you and your family enjoy. Together, our voices speak loudly to protect and improve our way of life.

One Big Family
When you join Farm Bureau, so does your entire immediate family including your spouse and any unmarrried children, up to age 23, living at home or in school. Through your county Farm Bureau membership you also become part of the largest state and national agricultural organizations – West Virginia Farm Bureau, representing thousands of member families, and the American Farm Bureau Federation, representing more than five million member families across the U.S.

Farm Bureau Works for You:
- Eliminating taxes on livestock, crops & machinery
- Fighting eminent domain laws
- Passing stronger surface owner oil & gas regulations
- Protecting property owners from frivolous trespasser lawsuits
- Working for capital gains exclusion on inherited properties
- Maintaining farm use evaluation
- Opposing DNR efforts to decrease deer harvest
- Removing property tax from stocks and bonds
- Defending fence line laws
- Fighting EPA in court
- Working with NRCS & Soil Conservation Districts

Farm Bureau Membership Pays for Itself
As a member of Farm Bureau, you will have access to a variety of programs, services and discounts. Each of these benefits are provided for the purpose of fulfilling the mission of WVFB – to improve, protect and enrich the lives of our members and their families. And new benefits are being added all the time! See www.wvfarm.org for the latest information.

A Strong Legislative Voice
Decisions are made in Charleston and Washington, D.C., that affect your farm, your business and the well-being of your family every day. Farm Bureau professional staff is there to monitor, inform and represent you, working with legislative and governmental leaders at the county, state and national level.
